

AUDITOR DENNIS GALLAGHER

Denver citizens are fortunate to live in a city and county with a rather unique form of government that includes an independently elected Auditor--something very few other cities have.

The Audit Services division of the Auditor's Office is composed of highly trained individuals with a wide range of professional auditing and accounting experience. They conduct financial related, operational and performance audits of City agencies and contractors doing business with the City and County of Denver.

Consider a career with us! You'll receive an excellent compensation and benefits package and the opportunity to live in majestic Colorado where year-round activities make it a great place to be!
